GOALS OF EDUCATION

Provide an environment which helps students. Parents and other community members demonstrate a positive attitude toward learning.

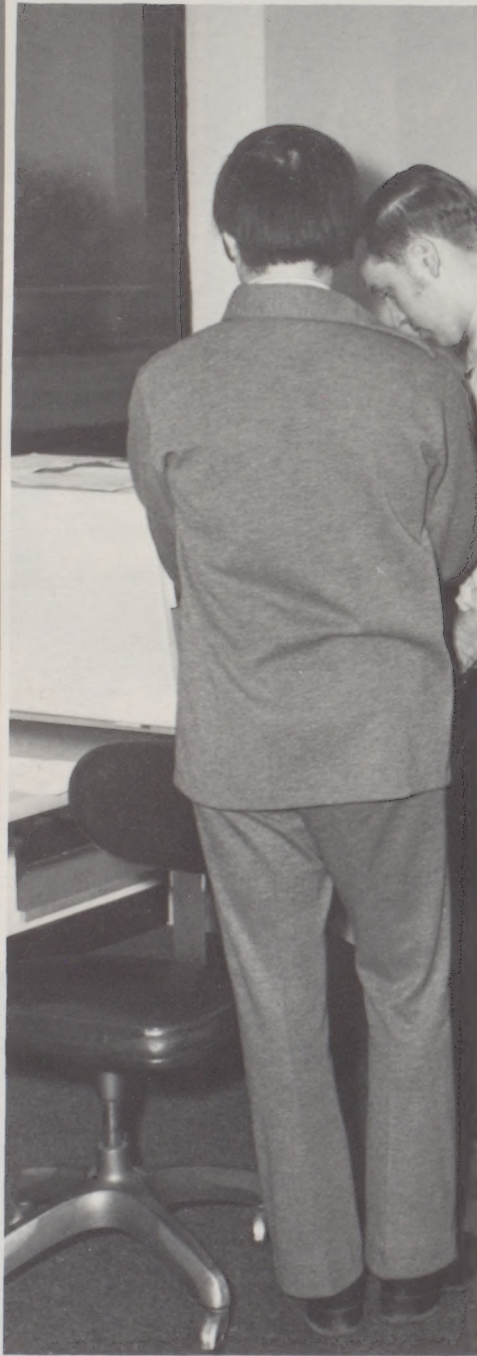

As school began this year it was apparent that things were going to be different. The new school was not quite finished as the lack of furniture, grass, pavement and athletic fields proved. It seemed to make everyone a little apprehensive. The modular scheduling was really no problem as far as remembering classes went. However, students and teachers found themselves scheduled for classes not taken, and not scheduled for classes taken. Many students did not realize that their unscheduled time was meant to be used for independent study, and that it was not really free time. As a result the first nine weeks grades were low. For many students they did not improve much all year.

As the year progress it was apparent that something was missing in our new school. The new school did not make everything go right. Our athletic teams were not doing well, and there seemed to be a lack of school spirit and pride.

More and more rules were being laid down without explanation, and as a result the students became more rebellious. The commons and hallways were in a constant mess, a little too much for the one janitor. The building was being torn up, and the school as a whole was being abused.

It seemed a viscous circle, the more rules, the more rebellion, and then more rules. The seniors especially felt the brunt of the situation. As seniors they were to be leaders, but with the lack of senior privileges they felt like the rest of the underclassmen and acted that way many times.

Finally, as students and teachers alike became upset with the way things were going meetings after school between teachers and students were set up. Many problems were talked about and many gripes were heard. Most often talked about were attitudes, privileges and the commons area. Only one thing was really changed because of these meetings, and that was afternoon homeroom was done away with. However, as suddenly as they started the meetings ended, and we never knew exactly why.

OFFICES

Provide an environment which brings about appreciation for and positive attitudes toward persons and cultures different from one's own.

Provide opportunities for students to express the full extent of their creativity.

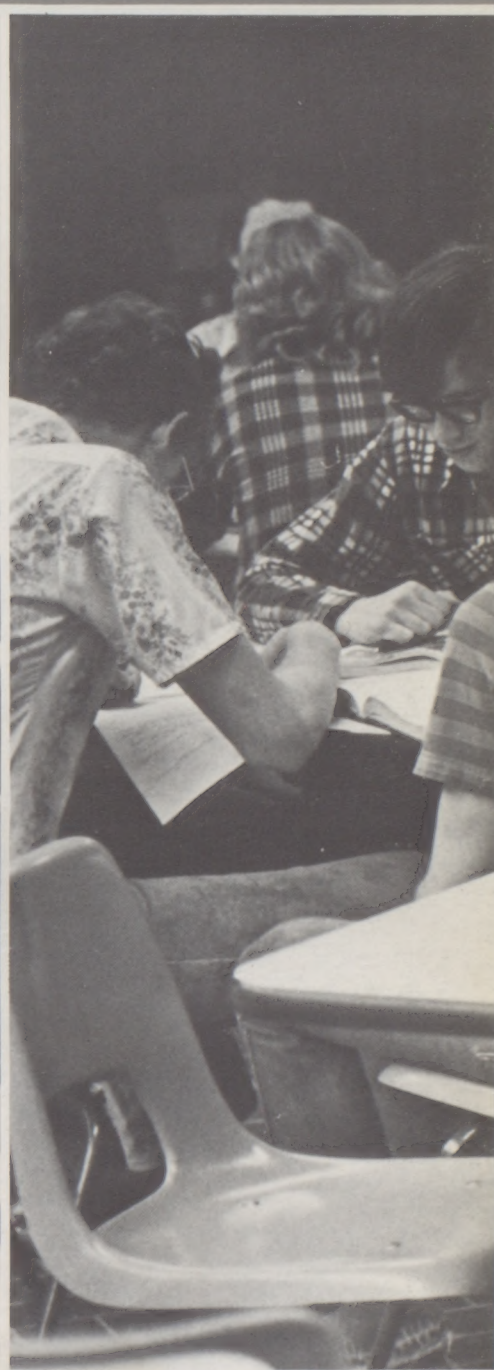

Encouragement of innovation and program options.

HALLS

COMMONS

AM homeroom is not to be dismissed until 8:15 even if the announcements are over.

You are not dismissed in the afternoon until the word is given over the PA.

The atmosphere after the meetings cleared for awhile, but it was clear that this year would be remembered by most as a year filled with problems.

Spring brought the announcement of Mr. Brewster's firing. Teachers and students alike felt the impact of this event. Several groups voiced their support for Mr. Brewster, but it was too late.

The second semester attitude around school seemed to be, "If I can just make it through the year things will be different next year! For the seniors, though, this was the last year. So they worked to have a "Class Night", only to lose it because they took an unauthorized "skip day". It seems as though the students were willing to work against a project and never for a worthwhile idea.

Many things were different this year. The classes were shortened generally, and more of the responsibility for learning left up to the student. The teachers were supposed to be free more often so they could help students when they needed it. However, many teachers found themselves busy with the little chores of teaching; detention hall duty, library duty, commons duty and back scheduling.

The yearbook is supposed to reflect the year past, and to bring to memory the good times. This year was in a way a new start for Clinton High School. The building and its furniture was new, and the program was also new. The modular scheduling is still rather new in the field of education, and so in a way this year was an experiment for everyone involved. The year is over now, and who knows who is to blame for all the problems that arose, whether the students, or administration, or teacher. Many things will change next year, and so they should. It is hoped that for most this book will bring back the funny and sometimes the sad experiences at C.C.H.S. Still for many it will be hard to find many good times to recall. Maybe as the years go by the experiences encountered this year will be looked back on with pleasant memories.

GYM

The new high school was formally dedicated November 5, 1972. The high school band and chorus provided the music for the occasion. The main speaker of the day was Dr. Ben Hubbard, Chairman of the Educational Administration at Illinois State University. Also, during the program the school board and the architects were introduced. Following the presentation of the building by the architects to Mr. Futrell, guests were allowed to tour the building and enjoyed refreshments in the commons area.

The football field was also dedicated during halftime of the Homecoming Game, October 6, 1972. The football field and a surrounding track were dedicated to Mr. Charles Sprague. Mr. Sprague was honored for his many years of service to the school as head of the Ushers Club. He is also the owner of the grounds of the old football field. Even though in ill health, Mr. Sprague was able to attend the halftime activities.

We would like to dedicate this yearbook to Charles Lehman, the most amiable teacher on the faculty. He began his illustrious career at CCHS in 1964 after graduating from ISU with a major in Biology. Mr. Lehman would rather teach than do anything, yet he does many other things.

Mr. Lehman is the wrestling and baseball coach. The wrestling team has flourished under his direction and have received many distinctions as a result of their fine performances which point to his coaching ability. He also drove the bus for football. The Uniserve, governing body for teachers in this area, has Mr. Lehman as a building representative. The church of his choice is the Baptist. Mr. Lehman enjoys hunting and fishing with his boys. Ice fishing and ceramics are also his favorites. And he is the favorite of the CCHS students.

The preparation for the big day began weeks ahead of time with the building of floats by clubs and classes. First, each organization decided on a theme that they thought would surely win a prize. Then the members scouted around until they found some generous person who would lend them a shelter for their float. Having a fantastic theme and a shelter, the clubs and classes began to get down to real business. Each member devoted his night to the building of that special float. With only twenty-four hours to go, many workers burnt the midnight oil in order to add the finishing touch to their masterpiece. Finally the day, October sixth, arrived, and school was dismissed early to make the day even more special.

COMING

Being set free, the students and teachers headed for town, the site of the Homecoming parade. Despite the chilling rain, the Homecoming Parade of 1972 was a success. The parade was led by a police car, with the Clinton Community High School Band following. The band, adding a new feature this year, was escorted by a school bus. Following the band bus, came the floats and a special entry by the National Honor Society. Other entries in the parade were the queen candidates' cars, the foreign exchange students' car, and a special entry by the Library Club, followed by the Maroons' football players.

The floats in the Homecoming parade of 1972 were all sensational. This fact made it hard for the judges to choose just three that were winners. First prize this year was taken by the Future Nurses Club, whose theme was "Better-Fly to a Victory," and their float was a very beautifully decorated butterfly. Second prize was taken by the Pep Club, whose float was titled "Lower U-H." The float was a coffin with glamorous scenery surrounding it. Third place went to the freshman class, whose theme was "We're Expecting a Victory." Their float consisted of a stork delivering a football. Although it did not receive a prize, the senior float was colorful with the title, "Rook U-High."

Other floats and their themes were: Junior class float titled "Stomp U-High," Sophomore class float saying, "Smoke U-High," Girls' Athletic Association float titled, "As Orville said to Wilbur, 'Maroons Do Things Wright.'" Next came a new but charming entry by the Library Club, with the members of the club dressed as characters from story books. Another interesting entry was a car containing National Honor Society members, polling for votes for a 1972 victory.

With the big parade over, the fans began to get ready for that night when the fighting Maroons would take the field. With only a few seconds till game time, the Clinton Community High School band took their places on the field. The crowd then stood up and sang as the band traditionally played the National Anthem and the school song. As the band marched off the field, a strong voice came over the loudspeaker and the announcer listed the starting line-up for both competitors of the 1972 Homecoming game. After being introduced, the starting players formed the huddle to listen attentively as Coach Williams reviewed the last minute plays and strategies.

As the players took their positions on the wet, soggy, field, the referee blew his whistle to start the clock, and the 1972 Clinton Homecoming game. Despite the rain and cold weather, both teams played their best, with the U-High players first on the scoreboard. With the Maroons behind, the clock showed the end of the half and time for more playing instructions. While the players received their halftime pep talk, the crowd was again entertained by the band, which was directed by Mr. Brewster. Returning to the field, the players put their new strategies into action. The Maroons fought their hardest but the U-High players came out on top. With the clock showing no time left, another homecoming had drawn to a close.

UP THE DOWN STAIR- CASE

SUGGESTION

For a short two days the Clinton High School stage was turned into the run down Calvin Coolidge High School as the Drama Club presented it's first play "Up the Down Staircase." The cast and crew of nearly fifty students spent six long weeks of hard work to prepare for opening night. They were directed by Mr. Simpson the club's sponsor and much valuable help from two student teachers Miss Chramosta and Mr. Sherman. The play was presented December 1 and 2 to very enthusiastic crowds.

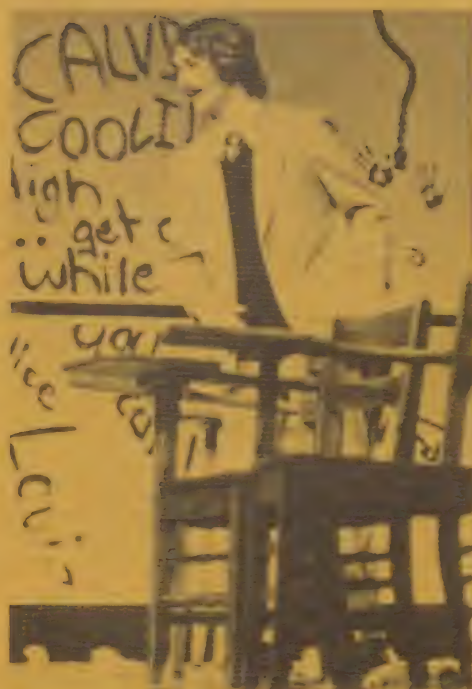

The play is about a young teacher Miss Sylvia

Barrett (Sara Jenkins) and her first year of teaching. Miss Barrett finds herself buried under an avalanche of useless paper work, such as filling out "polio consent form." She is frequently reprimanded by members of the administration (Doug Glasson, Carol Mead, Bill Johnson, Lindy Lewis, Cathy Austin, and Stephanie Hazel) for some infraction of the endless number of rules. She soon realizes that her students are the ones suffering. One student, Joe Ferone (Dave Riggert), continually voices his disgust for what the school calls education. However, he is

"Sorry I'm late. I was in detention. Where they make you sit to make up your lateness."

"But keeping order is getting to be the important thing."

just saying what the other kids feel. Some of them have been pushed around till they do not care and are just marking time till they can drop out. Others would like to learn but are frustrated when their attempts are met by seemingly uncaring teachers and unreasonable demands, "The school library is your library. No students allowed into library until further notice."

Amidst all of her confusion Sylvia finds another teacher, Bea Schacter (Jeanne Dunakey) who understands what she is going through and has conquered it somewhat. With her help and the students' Miss Barrett realizes that leaving the school will not help. She stays on and sets about to teach and help as many students as she can without causing too much trouble. Miss Barrett learns that all knowledge is not found in books.

The students enjoyed putting on the play because it was about something they understood and felt. They conveyed these feelings to the audiences and made the play a great success.

H O N O R S DINNER

The Fourteenth Annual Honors Dinner was held in the commons area at 6:30 P.M. on May 7, 1973. This year the guests consisted of forty-five honor students and their parents. The menu served was fruit nectar, braised steak, potatoes, green beans, tossed salad, and angel cake with strawberries. After an appetizing meal the guests moved to the auditorium for the program. First on the program was talented singing by Kim Harney and Larry Roberts. Then Dr. Edwards, our superintendent, gave a short speech entitled "The Pursuit of Excellence". The final part of the program was the recognition of the students by Mr. Futrell.

C L A S S T R I P

For the first time in many years the senior class took a trip. Although it wasn't a big trip it was enjoyed by all who attended. With Mr. Lehman at the wheel the class headed for Lake of the Woods along with Miss Hake. Many of the kids brought their own refreshments and noon time found them trying to get their fire going. Most of the day, however, was spent exploring the park. A golf course afforded several seniors the chance to practice up. A majority of the students discovered that although the swimming area wasn't open yet the boats were. For about an hour the lake was covered with paddle boats and row boats that seemed to ram each other no matter how much the boathouse man blew his whistle.

Back at the picnic area the school had provided several pieces of athletic equipment, and they were put to good use. There was a continual softball game going all day. There was also whiffle ball, volleyball and football games being played. Some of the kids also brought their frisbies.

Mr. Lehman and Miss Hake were very athletic chaperons and participated in almost all the games. The day ended with a trip to the Dairy Queen.

SNOW BIRD

The 1973 Sweetheart Dance entitled "Snowbird" was held February 17. The dance was again sponsored by the Future Homemakers. They spent nearly a month working on decorations and organizing the dance and competition for the sweethearts. Several girls from each class were nominated by the boys. A week before the dance the competition was narrowed down. The week of the dance the student body again voted. The FHA girls nominated their own members to run for FHA Sweetheart. The semi-finalists were Joan Holt, Michell McNight, Debbie Sturgeon, Donna Cundiff, Judy Creasy, Penny Koshinski, Peggy McCarty, Christina Marino, Mary Kuntz, Karen Reynolds, Tracey Cannon, Patty Weikel, Janet Bush, Grace Shumaker, Virginia Peverly and Brenda Baker.

The sweethearts all attended the dance which was held in the commons, and the FHA girls served home-made refreshments. At 9:00 all attending the dance gathered in the auditorium for the crowning, which was open to the public. The band "Starlight", which played for the dance, also played in the background as each of the sweethearts were escorted to the stage. Miss Roxanne Tarter then announced the winners, and last year's FHA sweetheart Miss Rita Turner crowned them. This was a very exciting evening for everyone attending.

HARVEY

"Harvey," a comedy play by Mary Chase, was presented March 30 & 31 as Clinton High School's spring play. Directed by Mr. Hal Simpson, the twelve chosen Clinton students acted out the story of Harvey, a six-foot tall pooka who was an almost constant companion to Elwood P. Dowd. (Dave Riggert) Harvey not only affects Elwood, though, but he also seems to interfere with the social lives of Veta Louise, Elwood's sister, and Myrtle Mae, his niece. Finally, Veta (Stephie Hazel) and Myrtle (Susie O'Neill) try to have Elwood committed, but considerable confusion results when Veta herself admits to having made Harvey's acquaintance.

The play was done beautifully, with each cast member giving outstanding performances both nights. The twelve CCHS students (plus the many extras who helped produce the play from behind the scenes) presented a wonderfully funny version of Mary Chase's play, which ran for quite a long time on Broadway.

After the final curtain call on Saturday night, Mr. Simpson was called up on stage and presented with a gift certificate at the Camelot, besides a small, cuddly, live version of Harvey.

In casting "Harvey," Mr. Simpson was faced with considerable difficulty, since over fifty students tried out for the meager twelve parts. He tried to choose students to fit the roles, but he also wanted to involve as many students as possible who had not been involved in the fall play. The lack of experience was more than made up for by the enthusiasm for the presentation, and many of them will almost certainly appear in future Clinton High productions.

REFLECTIONS

"Reflections" was the theme for this year's Junior-Senior Prom. Once again the junior class worked hard to earn the money to pay for the prom. The juniors sponsored the refreshment stand at the football and basketball games. They faced a problem decorating this year. The dance was held in the commons, so the kids had to wait till Friday after school to start decorating. The decorations included a mirror entrance and a reflecting pond in the center. Many couples enjoyed the band "Spoon River" from St. Louis. The sophomore girls helped served the cookies and punch prepared by the junior class.

ATHLETIC ASSEMBLY

GRADUATION

The class of 1973 graduated from Clinton High School on June 1, 1973. We were the first class to graduate from the new building, and therefore, graduation was a little different this year. There were one hundred and forty-nine graduates. It seemed to go faster this time but maybe that was because we were the ones graduating. Many of the mid-term graduates came back to attend the formal ceremonies with the rest of the class. Several of our class had graduated earlier and were already working and attending other schools. The graduation exercises were crowded with all the seats on the floor taken, and most of the bleachers filled.

CLASS OF 1973

The program included songs by the band and chorus, and a special number requested by the senior class by Sara Jenkins "O Bless the Lord My Soul". The welcoming address was given by Maureen Kreuser. Chris Weikel, our class president, then looked back on our four years in high school. Paul Gregor as student council president gave his thoughts on the council accomplishments this last year. Mr. Futrell was the main speaker of the evening. He admonished us to look ahead and fulfill our goals. The diplomas were then awarded by Mr. Carl Troxel, the school board president. The class then sang the traditional "Alma Mater" and turned their tassels.

National Honor Society is a group of select members. They have meetings the first and third Wednesday of every month. National Honor Society has an elected president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, and student council representative. This year these offices were held respectively by Vicki Chapman, Regie Stites, Sara Jenkins, and Mary Carr.

The National Honor Society has inductions twice a year, once in the fall and once in the spring. Induction is the only activity for which the Society needs any funds. Thus, every year they must have a small money-making project.

This year the project was a smashing success. The Society brought back the Sock Hop to Clinton High. Students came to the event in the most old-time and nostalgic clothes they could dig up. Contests were held to determine best costume and best dancing couple. Greg Allen was best costume, and Loretta Koshinski and Mark Kent received best dancing award. The music provided was oldy, moldy records contributed by some Clinton High enthusiasts.

Enthusiasm for decor was shown by NHS'ers by their entry into the Homecoming Parade. Member, Carol Mead, allowed her car to be decorated with crepe paper and vote slogans. Unfortunately, the decorations were a bit bedraggled by the rain even before the parade. Spirit of the members remained constant all year.

COUNCIL

The student council was sponsored this year by two new additions to our faculty Mr. Pat Henry and Mr. Hal Simpson. In addition to new sponsors student council also had a new money making project. The successful project of vending machines in the commons area satisfied the hunger of every student at CCHS. Even with all the new ideas student council did not give up their old traditions. They remained the sponsors of the 1972 homecoming and the homecoming dance. The members still had the duty of approving all money making projects within the school. The council also provided the programs at the basketball games. For the second year the student council also sponsored the girls basketball teams that played during homeroom periods.

The student council consists of two representatives from each class and one from each club to add up to a grand total of thirty-one members. Within the organization are five students chosen by the student body known as the Student Cabinet. These members plan the activities and direct the meetings of the student government. The members of this small group are: Paul Gregor, president; Ken Cox, vice-president; Pat Phillips, secretary; Carol Mead, treasurer; Maureen Kreuser, secretary of elections.

The pep club was under new sponsorship this year as Mr. Lehman took over the job. Steve Irvin as president of the club worked with Mr. Lehman in planning the activities of the group. The first project of the year was to sell cowbells left over from last year. The cowbells were successful and could be heard at the football games as well as at school. For Christmas the members were busy selling candles for the holidays and greenery to decorate. Spring found the active students going door to door selling a cleaning fluid.

Pep Club does not only make money, but as the name implies they help cheer at the games. Although no special section is set aside for the club most of the members attend.

The Girl's Athletic Association is sponsored by Mrs. Kratz one of the P.E. teachers at Clinton High School. The members of the club keep fit by participating in a year around program of sports. These sports include hiking, bowling, dodgeball, volleyball and softball.

This year started off by hiking to the park for a weiner roast and initiating the new members. The second big event of the year was a Christmas party. The night started with bowling. The girls then went to the school for a supper prepared by the senior members. After eating an appetizing meal the members had a gift exchange. Santa Clause (Greg Reinhart) handed the presents out to the girls. The final event of the year was the formal initiation held in May. During this meeting the new members are formally initiated. The awards earned during the year by the girls were presented by Mrs. Kratz at the athletic assembly.

ASSOCIATION

LETTERMAN'S CLUB

The Letterman's Club was a new club this year. It's members are those boys who have been outstanding in one or more fields of sports. These include cross country, football, golf, track, and baseball. The cheerleaders are also included in this club. These athletes are honored at the athletic banquets during the year. These dinners are attended by all athletes and their parents.

Since the club was formed late in the year they were not very active this year. However, they are looking forward to a full and active year next fall.

JAZZ BAND

This year our stage-band had only six returning seniors and eight brand new members. Jazz band rehearsals proved fruitful with the combination of new and old members. Mr. Brewster very modestly said "One must have a certain personality, a unique personality, but first of all one has to be able to handle the "axe" very well." Even though Mr. Brewster gave credit to the students under his instruction, it is obvious in performance that without his skillful guidance our jazz band would have sounded mediocre. Instead, we are proud to have had a professional sound in our jazz band. The band furnished the school with outstanding entertainment at basketball games, concerts, and contests. No matter where or when they performed, both the director and band presented an excellent show of musicianship.

SAXOPHONES: Joetta Long, Marilyn Gash, Ann Edmunds, Judy Reinhart, Sally Utterback. RHYTHM: Rich Leas, Dan Tuggle, Jeanne Dunakey.

BAND

Two major concerts were presented by the full band this school year. As always both performances were excellent entertainment for the community. Besides these formal concerts the band provided the school with an excellent marching band. Even during the rainy games the band marched and put on fine performances with the help of the pom pom girls.

Basketball season started up our pep band. Pep band played at games with stageband playing at half-time. This year band also participated in the communities' annual parades.

CHORUS

A large number of incoming freshmen increased the size of the chorus and as a result the chorus was even better this year. For the fall coffee house the chorus chose as its theme "Cabaret". Before the performance the group went to Bloomington to see Illinois Wesleyan's production of the play. With a little more understanding of the songs the singers put on a more fun program.

At Christmas once again the chorus joined the band for the annual concert. The program was highlighted by many special numbers.

After the holidays the kids began work on their spring coffee house. The songs carried a main theme of "Love is" and gave a glimpse of the different kinds of love.

Immediately after this it was time for Easter. The chorus was asked to sing at the community Sunrise Service. The members that were in town sang two numbers with the help of three trumpeters from the band.

The last formal program of the year was the Spring Concert with the band. The group this time presented melodies of different themes. Several solos and group numbers were again done.

Chorus ended its year with performances at graduation and baccalaureate services.

In this past year chorus has represented the school in the community by singing at club meetings and other civic organizational gatherings.

Due to the modular scheduling, band and chorus were under a time limit in preparation for concerts. We commend them on excellent jobs.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

This year's junior varsity and varsity cheerleaders put forth a valiant effort in trying to arouse Clinton High spirit. In early autumn, they attended a one day cheerleading clinic at Illinois State University where they learned several new cheering techniques and were shown some new methods by ISU cheerleaders.

Besides doing their duties at the football and basketball games and tournaments, Clinton's cheerleaders participated in the Homecoming Parade. The girls also sold Clinton Maroons car tags which were purchased by many Clinton fans. The cheerleaders were aided during the school year by the adequate sponsorship of Mrs. Roberta Helm.

The saga of the CCHS cheerleaders began in the spring of 1972 when a lot of talent showed up for the tryouts. Those who were chosen for the squad began their work in the fall and continued through two sports seasons here at Clinton High.

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross Country had a frustrating season. We lost three of our experienced runners, and the teams captain, Steve Miller was injured after three meets. Even though participating in only three meets, Steve was the most outstanding player of this year's team. George Morris, a sophomore, was also a very promising runner. He finished first for Clinton in a meet won by us. The score was Charleston 15, Mt. Zion 50, and Clinton 82. We also won two other meets, beating Lakeview, Mt. Pulaski, Pontiac, and U-High. Our overall record was three wins, five losses in regular season play.

Greg Austin

VARSITY

The Clinton Varsity Team was coached by Mr. Charles Lehman, a biology teacher at C. C. H. S. His assistant was Mr. Milton. The team was very successful this year and closed the season with a record of fourteen wins and seven losses. The Clinton wrestlers played host to nine other wrestling teams in the Holiday Wrestling Tournament which was held on Saturday, December 23, 1972. The tournament consisted of three rounds. The first began at ten A.M., the second at two P.M., and the final at seven P.M. Our wrestlers came away with the first place trophy, which they won by making 144 1/2 points. Mt. Zion came in second.

With the season coming to an end the wrestlers prepared for the big tournaments. The first, the Conference, was held on February 10, 1973. The Clinton wrestlers took seventh place. The grapplers that placed were: Tony Carter 2nd, Rod Karr 3rd, and Ron Carter 4th. The following weekend on the 17th, the wrestlers went to District Tournament in Fisher. The team placed second with fifty-five points. Three boys placed and received the right to advance to sectionals. The next Saturday Ronnie Carter, Tony Carter, and Steve Nixon took part in the Sectional Tournament in Normal. Although our team did not place they gave their opponents some real competition.

The Junior Varsity and Freshman wrestling teams were also coached by Mr. Milton, teacher at the middle school. The J.V. finished the season with a record of twelve wins and five losses. The freshmen had seven wins and six losses. The Freshman-Sophomore team took fifth place in the Springfield-Southeast Tournament. Wrestlers placing in that tournament were: Greg Karr 1st, Tony Mills, Kevin Dyer, Doug Oakley, and Rick Crispen all received second place. Ralph Shallenberger earned third place, and Jeff McIntosh and Bob McCamon received fifth place. The final Freshman-Sophomore Tournament took place in Morton on Saturday, February 3. Although the team as a whole did not wrestle, their best two boys placed. Mike Fink took second place and Dave Ward received fourth.

Experience is just one of the qualities achieved by the members of our young varsity team. The little experience they had was contributed by Dave Schoch, Phil Smith, Jeff Azbill and Chris Weikel. In spite of this bad year we are assured that they will continue their spirit and sportsmanship and be successful in the coming years. The Clinton Maroons of 1972-73 season were anything but a success as far as the record is concerned. After a long list of successive defeats a bright light appeared on January 27 when we defeated Chillicothe 76-73. Another light appeared in the regional tournament against Bellflower.

The statistics show us the outstanding players of this season: best free throw percentage Chris Weikel, most valuable Jeff Azbill, most assists Jeff Azbill, best field goal percentage Phil Smith.

GOLF

ROW I: Kevin Kline, David Reeves, Doug Oakley, Brad Epperson, Kevin Wahl, Dean Bush, Mr. Arnold.
ROW II: Sam Rainy, Curt Welch, Chris Weikel, Steve Wilson, Curt Harbach.

The CCHS golf team had a somewhat mediocre season this year, ending with an 8-11 record, but greatly lacked in experienced varsity golfers. Chris Weikel was the only senior on the team, and he was Clinton's best golfer in many of the meets. Juniors Curt Welch, Kevin Kline and sophomore Steve Wilson did a fine job for Clinton during the year, giving Clinton coach Mike Arnold high hopes for the coming seasons. Chris Weikel was also the only member of the Clinton team to win individual honors in the conference meet held at the Illinois State University golf course in Normal. Chris tied for seventh place with five other golfers and came out ninth after a sudden death playoff. Steve Wilson shot the best nine hole score of the year for Clinton with a 38, and he was able to go to Indianapolis 500 for his fine performance.

VARSITY

The baseball team had the problem of inexperience on the team just as the golf and track teams did. Dave Schoch was the only senior on the baseball team this year, and the lack of experienced varsity men contributed to Clinton's problems during the baseball season. Also, the Clinton players were unable to practice enough on a baseball diamond, so their only real field practice was during their games. In the season,

Clinton was only able to win one game, that against Delavan. Junior Mark Linderman was named Most Valuable Player by his teammates, and Mark Wilson was named Most Improved. Younger players gained a lot of valuable experience during actual games, so Clinton should be able to improve on their record in the coming season of the 73-74 school year.

TRACK

The Clinton track team had a fair season this year, putting out tremendous efforts in each meet they competed in. They ended the season with a 4-9 record, and they, like the other Clinton spring sports teams, were in need of more experienced track men. Only one senior, Greg Thomas, completed the season for Clinton, and he was rewarded by being named most valuable member of the track team, besides winning the Clinton High award for "Athlete of the Year." Greg ran in the high and low hurdles for Clinton, besides competing in the high jump and the triple jump, a new event that began this year. Of what coach Austin calls, "an outstanding bunch of young men," the track team will only lose senior Greg Thomas to graduation. Thomas set three school records in track this year, in the high hurdles, the triple jump, and the low hurdles. Steve Nixon, only a junior this year, also set a new school record in the shot put. The Clinton team place eighth in the conference meet.

TOSHI AND CRISTINA

Toshinori Tokukisa, also known as Toshi, was the American Field Service's foreign exchange student from Japan, and his "parents" were Mr. & Mrs. Dean Carter of Kenney, Illinois.

Placed in Clinton High's new modular scheduling and the new school Toshi spent his class time in such subjects as Government, American History, English, P.E., Math IV, Business Law, Advanced Drawing & Painting and Calculus. He likes the modular system and the free time, ("when you can do whatever you want to"), but he is getting rather bored with the system.

Toshi's real home is Oita, Japan, where he has a brother who is a sophomore and a sister who is married. Toshi will finish another half-year of school, then he hopes to continue his education in either the foreign language or business fields.

During his free time Toshi enjoyed swimming in warmer weather, and this winter he busied himself with junior varsity wrestling activities. Toshi received his varsity letter from Mr. Lehman, despite having his season cut short when his arm was broken in the first twelve seconds of one of his wrestling matches.

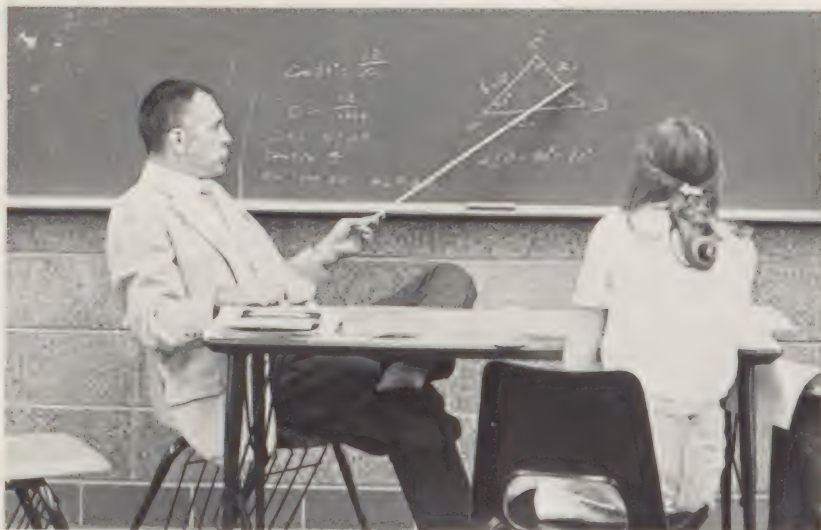

Maria Cristina Marino was the foreign exchange student who came to Clinton through the Youth For Understanding program, which is intended to give students an opportunity to live with a family overseas and thus develop more understanding toward other countries and other peoples.

Cris or "Smartie" came to Clinton from Bogota, Columbia, and is presently living with the Joe Bianucci family in Clinton's Hillcrest addition. In Columbia she has a brother Francisco, 20, and a younger sister Maria Clara, 16. Her father works as the general manager for a life insurance company.

Being at the new CCHS was a tremendous change for Cris, and in her native country she attended the Santa Francisca Romana School. In her school the school sports were basketball and baseball, and the educational program was much stricter. The students at Santa Francisca Romana were unable to take elective courses as we do, and they had to wear uniforms to classes. College, too, is different in Columbia, since most students come home each evening after classes instead of staying in a dorm.

At Clinton High Cris took English, American History, Math IV, Home Ec, Chorus and P.E.

MR. WORTHALL

Why did you decide to come to Clinton to teach?

"When I student taught at Clinton I got to know the faculty and many of the students. I felt that they would be a good group to work with. Also, I have wanted to teach in a modular program and this was a deciding factor." Mr. Henry Algebra I, Math I, Geometry, Technical Math

How do you like the modular scheduling compared to the way you were taught?

"Much better. There are many more possibilities for personal academic expression and a very relaxed atmosphere for study and learning."

Under the new scheduling do you feel you can teach your subject as efficiently as you would like?

"No one is ever as efficient as they would like but there are advantages." Mr. Worthall Math I, Geometry

Under the new scheduling do you feel you can teach your subject as efficiently as you would like to?

"I have enjoyed the modular scheduling. My feeling is I have had more time for those who really want to excell in math as well as those who are having trouble and need extra help. The freedom and relaxed atmosphere are good motivators for learning." Mr. Bader

MISS HAKE

What would your occupation be if not a teacher?

"This question is one that almost defies an answer, for fate sometimes takes one by the hand and leads him. I would like to be a professional bowler or golfer, but my scores are either too high or low. A more logical vocation would be writing poetry; however, I would starve to death since I average writing only one per year." Mr. Adcock
English IIB, IIIA

What do you think of the present teaching system?

"The present system is excellent for me. I enjoy working with smaller groups and I believe students should have more freedom, and at the same time learning to be independent. However, this system requires much cooperation among students, faculty, and administration. If my group fails, the entire system will probably have to be altered. Attitude seems to be the key in making modular scheduling work. All of us have to want the system to succeed and from that point work until it does." Miss Hake
English IB, IIB, IIA, IVB

What would your occupation be if not a teacher?

"Well, I guess if I were to change professions again I would go back into some type of sales work. Prior to coming to the teaching field, I was in sales and found it quite satisfying. In so many ways very similar to teaching. You have to sell students on ideas and methods. I compare the students that I work with as a sales client. When I do a poor job, my students just don't buy it! I have always loved working in sales. It is exciting. You constantly meet new people and face new situations. I have enjoyed both of these professions. I suppose that were I to return to sales my "cup of tea" would be a fulltime job in the investment and insurance field." Mr. Quinn
General Business, Business Math, Typing I, Business Law, Data Processing

MRS. ABBOTT

If you had not become a teacher what would you like to do?

"I would like to be a professional baseball player." Mr. Austin Boy's P. E.

Do you like the present teaching method?

"I think this method should be given a fair trial by teachers and students. I think new methods have values."

What would your occupation be if you were not a teacher?

"I haven't considered any other occupation; I am happy in my profession." Mrs. Abbott
English IC, IIB, IIC, IIIC

Under the new scheduling do you feel you can teach your subject as efficiently as you would like?

No teacher is as efficient as she would like to be. I basically like this scheduling for biology. The teacher time saved in large group lecture gives an excellent opportunity to talk to the students as individuals in small group discussions.

If you had not become a teacher what would you have become?

"I seriously considered being a physical therapist because I liked biology and people, but I felt teaching would be more interesting and let me work with animals, too." Mrs. Kline
Biology, General Biology, General Science

MR. AUSTIN
MRS. KLINE

MR. LEHMAN
MRS. SIMMONS

MRS. HELM

Under the new scheduling system do you feel you can teach your subject as efficiently as you would like to?

"I can do a better teaching job under the new system because I have more time to prepare lectures and more time to help individual students. The students will have to learn to use their free time wisely or they will fall behind and do a much poorer job under the new system." Mr. Lehman
General Biology, Biology,
Biology II

Do you think modular scheduling will affect a student's intelligence level?

"I think modular scheduling will affect the two kinds of students we have; those who care and those who do not care. The student that cares is the student who wants to learn and will benefit greatly by modular scheduling. Those who do not care will be affected because they have not as yet learned to use their time correctly." Mrs. Helm
Girl's P.E., Vocal Music

What do you think of the new teaching system?

"I think that there are many educational opportunities available to students, but it will take maturity and self-discipline for each student to gain what he should from the system. The responsibility for learning is now on the student's shoulders, for he now has the time available to study, research and to read deeply in areas which have been assigned or which interest him." MR. HUGHES

If you were not a teacher what would you do?

"After graduation I had a choice to make, whether to teach or go into industry, If I had not liked teaching then the second choice would have been a career in industry." MR. HUGHES - Woods I, Metals I, Welding & Metals II.

What do you think of the present teaching system?

"I feel the present system has numerous advantageous possibilities for the student who truly wants to put forth an effort to learn. The open labs and unscheduled time can be valuable asset; but to the student who is only interested in having a good time without going to class, doing homework etc., all the freedom is a catastrophe and only leads to detention hall, suspension or expulsion."

MRS. WILLOUGHBY - English IA, IIB.

If you would have had modular scheduling when you went to school, do you think it would have affected your choice of occupation?

"I changed occupations after previous experiences with modular scheduling; however, modular scheduling had nothing to do with this decision, I feel the "open" concept offers exciting opportunities for both the teacher and the student.

I chose teaching because of my training and of a desire to further develop personal goals and interests within and through the media of secondary education. It is my feeling that these goals can be reached better through the "open" concept." MR. SIMPSON - American History, English IA, IIB.

MRS. WILLOUGHBY

MR. SIMPSON

MRS. HIERONYMOS

MR. BREWSTER

MR. GLASSON

Under the new scheduling do you feel you can teach your subject as efficiently as you would like to?

"For my classes this system works in very well as we have more scheduled class time for our foods, sewing and nursery classes which makes us able to accomplish more and give time for evaluation and clean up in our class lab." MRS. HIERONYMOS - Clothing I, Foods I, Child Development, Hospitality, Meals, Childcare.

What is your philosophy about people?

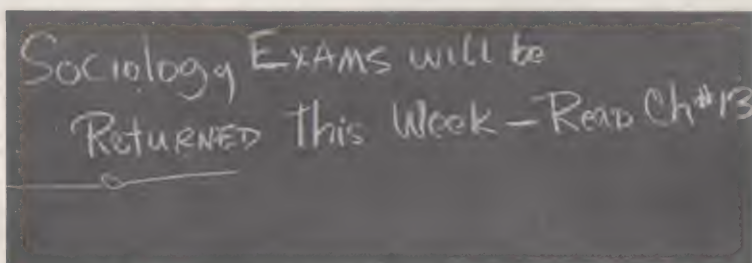

"You can print my philosophy, 'You can lead a horse to water, but, if you can teach him to float on his back you have really accomplished something.'" MR. BREWSTER - Instrumental Music.

What do you think can be done to stop students from wasting their unscheduled time?

"Without self-discipline there can be no real achievement, but discipline rises from desire. The student who lacks desire - who has no wish to make his life count for something and to fulfill his potential as a human being - cannot accept the failure and disappointment that are inevitable in reaching important goals. He will always be content to string beads and build tee-pees in the park."

Do you think modular scheduling is a better system than you had when you were in school?

"I think that any system will work if you have good teachers. We have a misguided faith in systems or organization. So often we believe that we can solve our problems if we can only discover the right system. I believe that with good, abled teachers nearly any system can be affective. The secret to success is not systems but people." MR. GLASSON - Spanish I, II, III & IV.

MRS. WESTRAY

Do you like the present teaching method?

"Yes. I feel modular scheduling gives students many opportunities they did not have under the set fifty-five minute periods."

What would your occupation be if you were not a teacher?

"If I were not a teacher, I'd like to be a writer for a newspaper." Mrs. Westray, English IB, IIA

"What do you think about the present teaching system?"

"I feel our modular scheduling is really an opportunity for the large public schools to return to the advantages of 'country school days' (smaller class size, individualized instruction). As in any educational system (or era) preparation and sincerity of everyone involved ring in the success of a school year."

What could you choose to be if you were not a teacher?

"If I were to choose a profession other than teaching I would choose an occupation in the medical field," Mrs. Rutherford, French I, II, III, IV

If you were in charge how would you change our school system?

"I think that we should have gradually gone into the new system instead of changing everything all at one time. I feel that we should of kept some of the old ideas and mixed them with some new ideas. I don't think I would have built the building as it is now. I would have made the class dividers from floor to ceiling, but I would leave them movable. I would make the schedules more workable and make some of the classes longer such as history. I believe that I would have study halls and more control."

MR. WHITE

Do you think mid-term graduation is a good idea?

"Mid-term graduation? We had graduation during mid-term and since. The modular program lends itself to early graduation. Students know they have met the requirement, so they ask, 'why not'? They have become bored with their new found freedom-unscheduled time. Why have they graduated? We haven't met their needs. Sad isn't it? It doesn't matter what one thinks of mid-term graduation, a precedent has been set." Mrs. Kratz
Physical Education

Why did you decide to come to Clinton to teach?

"Clinton seemed to meet most of our requirements for a church, school, and community."

Mr. White
Science, General Science,
General Chemistry

Under the new scheduling do you feel you can teach you subject as efficiently as you would like?

"Yes! Because students are free to work as much as they wish on their unscheduled time. I have more time to work with individual students when they come into the art room during open lab. Longer periods of working class time allows for more involvement in the projects. These longer classes also allow students to work on a variety of projects at the same time. With a few adjustments in our schedule for next year, we should be able to cover more material in all the classes and still have time for special projects and extra work to be done during open lab time."

MRS. KARR

Do you feel mid-term graduation is a good idea?

"I do not feel mid-term graduation is a good idea. I think that the majority of seniors need the last semester to gain maturity and self-discipline needed for entering the work force or for continuing their education." Mr. Wylder Algebra I, Algebra II, Math IV, Calculus

What do you think of flexible scheduling?

"Flexible scheduling is the best thing that has happened to Clinton High. Not only has it taken away the boredom of daily routine, but it has also permitted the student to set a goal for himself within his individual schedule. It is much easier this year to do independent study or to get personal help from a teacher during a free period." Mrs. Rinkenberger English IA, IIIB, IVA, World Literature

Do you like the new method of teaching?

"Yes, because the new method is particularly well suited to my courses, and I like the idea of student responsibility-for those students who will accept it."

Do you think mid-term graduation is a good idea?

"Since I believe that one cannot ever be TOO-well-prepared for college I am not particularly in favor of mid-term graduation. However, if there is graduation after the seventh semester it should be then, not strung out over the next several weeks. A task begun should be finished." Mrs. Karr Ancient History, Modern History, Humanities, Government Economics.

MR. WYLDER

MRS. RINKENBERGER

MR. STONE
MR. ARNOLD

MRS. FROST

Why did you decide to come to Clinton to teach?

"The main reasons that I came to Clinton to teach are I liked the new facilities and also I liked the people that I would be working with and under. I also liked the smaller town friendliness that Clinton seems to possess. The modular system was very appealing to me because it has so much more to offer than does the traditional type. I feel that this school is progressive and trying to reach the students." Mrs. Frost Clothing I, Dress-making, Interior Decorating, Tailoring, Family Living

If you had not become a teacher what would you have done?

"The world of professional sports is the one I would have chosen. Since I did not possess the physical characteristics necessary to become a player I would have liked to have been a major league baseball umpire." Mr. Stone Physical Education

What do you think can be done to stop students from wasting their unscheduled time?

It is basically up to the student to recognize that his or her future relies on wise use of time. After this is realized there will be less wasting of unscheduled time. It is often the individual who learns to organize and take the initiative that succeeds in life."

How does the modular scheduling of our new school program compare to the techniques used when you attended Clinton High?

"There is definitely more freedom in the present modular system. Of course with more freedom there is a need for more student initiated responsibility, and it is often the case that it is ONLY the student who accepts responsibility that prospers from such a system."

What would you be if you weren't a teacher?

"I concentrated on the areas of criminology, juvenile delinquency and deviant behavior in college, and if I weren't a teacher I probably would be involved in law enforcement." Mr. Arnold American History, Sociology

MR. HARDEN

Do you think mid-term graduation is a good idea?

"Yes, I think mid-term graduation is a good idea as long as the student has met all the requirements of the school." Mr. Harden Personal Typing, Typing I, Bookkeeping

Why did you decide to come to Clinton and teach?

"Clinton has a friendly atmosphere which I discovered when applying for my position. Also, the new modular scheduling seemed very interesting and I felt it would be a very good experience. Since coming here I have found the atmosphere and experience both to my liking and have enjoyed it immensely." Mr. Ritter Agriculture I, Power Mechanics, Agriculture Business

What do you like best about modular scheduling?

"Most of the advantages are for the students. It gives students more of a chance to enroll in more academic classes than the standard four. In fact a student should be enrolled in more. The greatest advantage is that it can help the students to use their time wisely. It allows time for independent study and extracurricular activities."

What problems do you think can be worked out?

"Most of the problems are just the ones that come with starting something different. The students were not able to cope with their independence after being in a structured program. For most students it is easier to be told what to do, and that is why some students don't like the modular scheduling. The discipline problems are with those who can't cope with the freedom." Mrs. Veach Counselor

MR. RITTER

MRS. VEACH

MR. WILLIAMS
MRS. BLUE

MR. HUDSON

If you were not a teacher
what would you be?

"I would be a physical therapist." Mr. Williams, Driver Education.

"If you were not a teacher
what would you be?"

"I would be a designer and construction supervisor on pre-fab housing projects." Mr. Hudson, Woods I, Metals I, Welding Metals II.

What do you like most about modular scheduling?

"I like the flexibility of modular scheduling in this respect: if a particular subject needs more or less than one hour's time this can now be arranged easily." Mrs. Blue, Typing IB, Shorthand I, SOP, COP.

MRS. SMITH

Why did you decide to teach in Clinton?

"I liked the location in the central part of the state. It is not too far from my home town, yet it's far enough. I have relatives in this area, also. I liked the idea of living in a small town and Clinton is small yet not too far from larger towns. I also liked the idea of teaching in a new school. I figured new teacher, why not a new school to start out in?" Mr. Smith Special Education

What do you think can be done to help students from wasting their unscheduled time?

- "1. Provide more open labs.
2. Provide recognition for students serving as aids to departments.
3. Provide group guidance to encourage early goal setting.
4. Provide extra credit for independent study.
5. Provide Study Halls for those students earning Ds or Fs.
6. Provide areas for students to study together."

Mrs. Glasson Counselor

Why did you decide to teach at Clinton High School?

"I decided to teach at Clinton High School because i felt "called" to do so. I believe the modular system and the new facilities can provide students with a great opportunity to learn responsibility and the discipline early as well, of course, as academic knowledge. Given the chance, I believe it will provide the teachers (me) with a greater chance to help students individually and try new educational ideas.

My family and I like the size and friendliness of Clinton and have enjoyed making new friends. Its central location also influenced our consideration of Clinton as a teaching position." Mr. Monroe Science, General Science, Chemistry

The yearbook staff would like to thank all the kids who sold advertising, and the businesses who supported us. We would also like to thank our outside photographers Mr. McKinley and Mr. Spray.

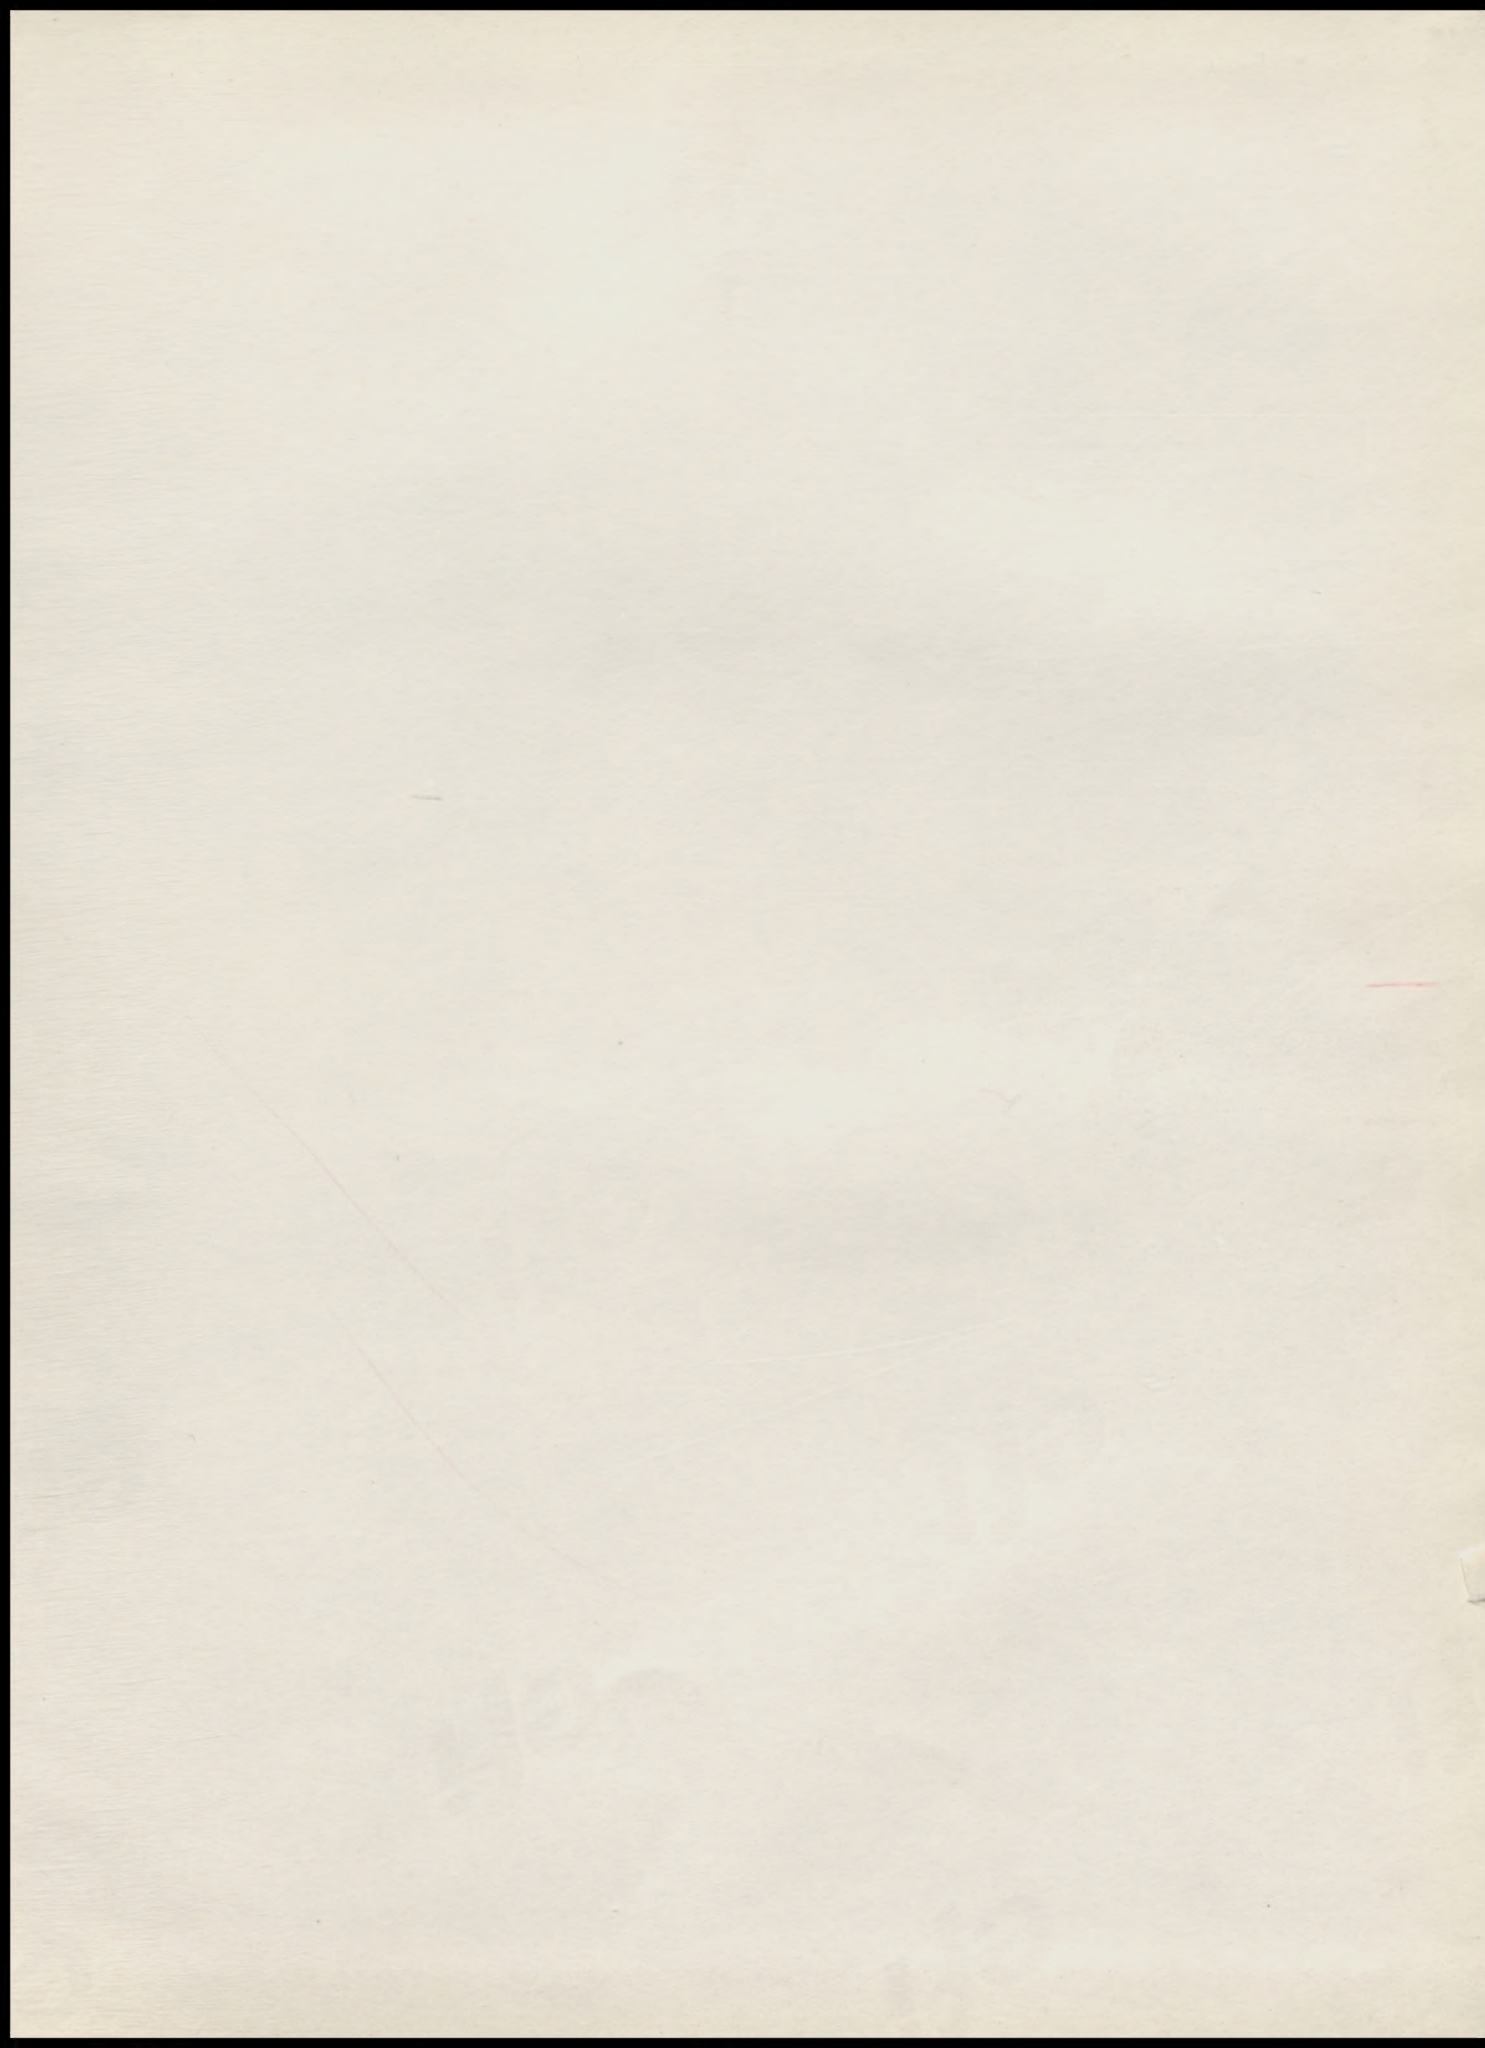

I would also like to thank those members who stayed up all night to make the deadlines. Also, a special thanks to Mr. Galvin for all his help and pictures, and for everything he had to put up with.
